

I am very happy with Wisconsin's no call list and do not want it to lose any of its strength. It is a public service that is very important to me and my family. We are finally able to enjoy time at home again without a constant stream of interruptions. If I want something, I will look for it. I do not want my telephone to be a service location for vendors.

Thank you,

Jacob Jesson